Ciara Brennan

About me:

I am 14 years old, a lover of music and books. I write political articles for the Guardian website and am a supporter of Amnesty International.

Why I want to be a Youth Cabinet Member:

I want to be able to campaign for young people and to make our generation noticed more, as we are the generation of the future.

My two campaign issues are:

1. Improving mental health awareness and support
2. Protecting the environment
